OPTIONS FOR INDIVIDUAL FUNDRAISERS

By law, any fundraising done by a 501(c)(3) non-profit must benefit the group as a whole. In order to help families raise the funds for their student to attend this trip, we have found several ideas that families can do on their own.

NOTE These fundraisers are for families to do individually. All donations must be given to the families directly so it can reduce their own individual costs. They are NOT tax-deductible and do not flow thru the Boosters.

“Pick-A-Date” Calendar Fundraiser - $496

This is a super easy, low-pressure fundraiser and it works! You create a calendar graphic with each day labeled with a dollar amount (1 = $1, 2 = $2, all the way up to 31 = $31). Share it on social media and ask friends or family to “claim a date” and donate that amount. If every date gets picked, you raise $496.

Sample Caption:

"I’m fundraising for my band trip to the Music For All Festival in Indianapolis and doing a fun Pick-A-Date challenge! Pick a date, donate that amount, and help me reach my goal. Every dollar makes a difference. Thank you so much!"

See calendar attached.

Sell Popcorn with Double Good

Double Good makes it easy for students to raise money individually. You sell gourmet popcorn through a custom online store—and you keep 50% of every sale. The fundraiser lasts just 4-7 days and there's no delivery or product handling on your end. You can host this fundraiser on your own and you don't need to be a part of a nonprofit to do it!

Sell BNutty's Gourmet Peanut Butter

This Northwest Indiana-based company makes small-batch, premium peanut butter in delicious flavors. Their fundraising program allows individual families to sell directly and earn up to 50% per jar.

Donate Plasma (Yes, Really)

This may sound out of the box—but donating plasma is a legitimate and safe way many families help cover larger student activity costs. You can earn a few hundred dollars a month by donating regularly at a local center like CSL Plasma. Bonus: you're helping save lives while supporting your student.

💡 Insider Tip: The nearest location to Plano is CSL Plasma in McKinney.

Have Your Student Work for Donations

Help your student take ownership of their trip by offering services in exchange for donations. Ideas include errand running, babysitting, dog walking, lawn clean-up or weeding, garage organizing, gift wrapping near the holidays, or running errands for neighbors.
